LITERATURE.

The Century.
The March Century contains several features of romantic interest. First in uniqueness, perhaps, is Mr. Kennan's continuation of his revelations in regard to the Russian State prisons, the details of which are remarkable for interest and bear every evidence of authenticity. A narrative paper of thrilling detail is Captain Frank E.
Moran's account of the planning, mishaps, and finally successful execution of Colonel Rose's Tunnel at Libby Prison. In "The Home Ranch," Mr.
Theodore Roosevelt gives a continuation of his graphic papers on the daily life of a ranchman, accompanied by illustrations by Frederic Remington.
Mrs. Van Rensselaer's paper in the "English Cathedral" series is devoted to Salisbury, of which she says: "Nowhere else does a work of Christian architecture so express purity and repose and the beauty of holiness." Mr.
Albert Morris Dagby writes of "Some Pupils of Liszt," with especial reference to Eugene D'Albert, Arthur Fie-delm, Alexander Siloti, Alfred Reisener, and Fraumlein Adèle sus der Ohe, all of whom, as well as of Liszt himself, there are portraits, and a paper of outstanding interest is contributed by Mr. John Bigelow in his "Franklin's Home and Host in France," the host being M. Donatien La Ray de Chaumont. This number contains also two full-page portraits of Bismarck; one after the bust by Roth; the other from a photograph, and shows the Chancellor in his garden with his two hounds. A paper by the Rev. T. T.
Kunger considers a pressing question under the title of "Immigration by Passport." The fiction contains the conclusion of Mr. Cable's "An Large," also Edward Everett's novel, "The Grays," in which Abraham Lincoln appears as a character; and a short story by Miss Helen Gray Cone, entitled "Hercules: A Hero." The Lincoln History deals with "The Call to Arms," the story of Sumter being retold authoritatively, the narrative being as before with the aid of unpublished material.
The poetry of the number includes "A Far Cry to Heaven," by Edith M.
Thomas, "The Roads that Meet," by Rose Hawthorne Lathrop; "Auspici-um," by Mary Anne de Vere; "To a Veteran," by A. S. L. Gray; and "The White Star's Echo," by R. W. Gilder; and in "Brie-a-Brac" contributions by Robertson Trowbridge, William H.
Hayne, Dora Reed Goodale, William Young, and others.
The editorial department includes articles on "English as She is Taught," "The Growing Independence of American Journalism," "American Architecture in English Eyes," and "Landscape Gardening and Forestry."

The Century, New York.

The Writer for March.
"The Writing of Speeches" is charmingly discussed by Hon. John D.
Long, in the March number of The Writer (Boston). George Alfred Townsend writes on "The Newspaper for Today," and Rev. Dr. Lorimer has a critical article in the series entitled "How I Write My Sermons." "Marketable Literary Goods," "What of Dictation?" "Some Newspaper Boreds," "Rejected Manuscripts," and "Reques-tes for Writers," are titles of some of the other articles in an unusually interesting number. A score of questions about literary work are answered in the department of "Queries," and in addition there are book reviews, helpful hints and suggestions, news and notes, and a unique reference list of literary articles in periodicals. The Writer is edited and published by William H.
Hills and Robert Luce, both editors on the Boston Globe, and costs but $1 a year.
Address: The Writer, P. O. Box 1905, Boston, Mass.

Babyhood.
Diphtheria is now such a common disease that it is of the utmost importance for every mother to have some idea of its symptoms and character. An article in the March number of Baby hood supplies all the information which it is possible to give in a popular form concerning that so urgent of the nursery.
The article is by Dr. Chapin, Professor of Diseases of Children at the Woman's Medical College of New York, and is thoroughly practical. It gives plain directions for the examination of the throat, which it is insisted should be made in every case of illness in children.
A number of illustrations help to make clear the difference between simple tonsillitis and diphtheria, and the changes in the appearance of the tonsils in both diseases.
Address: Babyhood, New York.

Little's Living Age

The number of The Living Age for February 25th and March 3d contain Darwin's Life and Letters, and Cabot's Life of Emerson. Quarterly Personal Experiences of Bulgarians, and The Evolution of Humor. National; Home Rule in Norway. Nineteenth Century; A Jacobean Courtier, Fortnightly; Mary Stuart in Scotland. Blackwood; A Night in the Jungle. Macmillan; Some Who am I?
R. M. C. Jones, and The Romance of History. Bayard, Temple Bar; Under Fitz Tim; Thackeray's Brumton. All the Year Round; with "A Tumbler of Milk," "The Five Horseshoes," and poetry.
Little & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

Pansy.

The Pansy for March has come. For once let us tell what is in it. Pansy's story on the Golden Texts for the month. Pansy's other story, Up Garret, Margaret Sidney's story of a disagreeable girl. A cat story. Mrs.
Livingston's Pansy Society story. A sea story. Several missionary sketches.
The Indian School at Carlisle. Baby's Corner. Pictures a dozen or two. A lot of letters to Pansy from boys and girls. And a Quaker Story.
D. Lothrop Company, Boston.

Their Business Booming.
Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at A. C. Smith & Co's. Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Group, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured.
You can test it before buying. Get a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle $1.00.

Queer Notions Concerning America.

An English lady who had traveled over the greater part of Europe, said she had a great desire to come to America, and her principal object in doing so was to shoot Niagara. I rather opened my eyes at this, and said that I thought she must refer to the celebrated trip down the rapids of the St. Lawrence, but she was very positive on the subject, and said she meant Niagara, and nothing else; she had understood that they did it in a steamboat, and she knew she would enjoy the sensation.
A well-educated middle-aged gentleman told me that the reason our civil war lasted so long was that we had no military men in our country, and that a war carried on entirely by civilians could not proceed very rapidly. If any of you have ever seen an English atlas, you will understand why it is difficult to get from it a good idea of America.
We shall find, in such an atlas, full and complete maps of every European country and principality, a whole page being sometimes given to an island, or to a colony in Asia or Africa; but the entire United States, with sometimes the whole of North America besides, is crowded into a single map. Some of these are so small that the New England States are not large enough to contain their names, and are designated by letters which refer to the names printed in an open part of the Atlantic Ocean.
No wonder that the people who use these maps have a limited idea of our country.
But it is not only English people who appear to know very little about America. A German countess once asked me if we had any theatres in New York, and when I told her that there were not only a great many theatres in that city, but that it possessed two grand opera houses at which, at that time, two of the leading prima donnas of the world were singing on the same nights, she was a little surprised. It is quite common in various parts of the continent to hear people speak of the late war between North and South America. They knew that the war was between the North and South, and as it was in America, the mistake is natural enough to people who have studied only European geography.—Frank R. Stockton, in St. Nicholas for March.

Save the Physician Fee.
Why fee a physician to prescribe for an ordinary cough or cold, when a single bottle of "Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar," costing half a dollar, will restore the irritated lungs and throat to their natural condition with absolute certainty? There is no healing virtue in medical Latin, and among all the cabalistic prescriptions of the profession, there is not one which will compare in potency with this famous remedy, the ingredients of which are indicated in its honest Anglo-Saxon name. Sold by Druggists everywhere at 50 cents and $1.
Great saving by buying large size.
